DISCUSSION/RATIONALE:

The Suffolk Airport C&D Site consists of four subsites: the Suffolk Airport C&D Site, the Canine Kennel Landfill, the Suffolk County Airport Training Area, also known as the Fire Training Area, and the Suffolk County Air National Guard Base. The site is a former military airfield from World War II. Contaminants found in the past at the site include solvents, jet fuel, and PCBs. The NYSDEC delisted two (the Suffolk Airport C&D and the Fire Training Area sites) of the four subsites. However, the NYSDEC is currently reevaluating the Fire Training Area for possible vapor intrusion of volatile organic compounds into nearby structures. The NYSDEC is also overseeing and/or conducting remedial activities at the Canine Kennel Landfill and the Air National Guard Base subsites. The site will remain active in CERCLIS as a low priority site.
